June 2018

Welcome to the Little Roos Marlow Newsletter

Happy Eid and Happy Father Day greetings to all that celebrated!

Thank you to all the parents that attended the parent's consultation evenings. It was a lovely chance to meet you all and for you to talk to your child's keyworker about your child's development as well as hear about all of the fun learning activities that we plan daily.

Due to the sunny (but changeable) weather please ensure that your child has a labelled bottle of sun cream, sun hat, long and short sleeved clothing (all named please). We ask that parents please also apply sun cream before they come into nursery. Thank you!

Parent Updates:

Holiday photos – please remember to send in your holiday / outings photos so that we can talk about them together with the children.

Safeguarding: Please can you ensure that you do not let others/parents into the nursery, through the door to our building; as management need to be aware of who is in the nursery at all times.

Fund Raising: Thank you to all of the parents that sponsored their child for this event. We have raised a fantastic amount of £89 for Save the Children.

Little Wallabies have been focusing on doing lots of different role play activities with their peers, for example, pretending that they are having picnics or washing the cars in the garden and talking about the different objects that are used in the role play. Little Explorers have been focusing on learning about different forms of transport. The children have been trying to identify the different logos on cars along with their colours. Whilst on your journey to and from nursery maybe you could point out the different transport methods and special detail that you can see also?

Big Kangas have been focusing on developing their mathematical skills by going on number hunts and looking at the different numbers in the environment. Throughout the day we have been talking about phonics of words of different objects in the nursery environment that they see and guessing what sound /phonics comes at the beginning of the words
